

I originally began this website as a dedication to my parents Edwin and Monica along with my grandparents Edward, Win and Margaret but in reality, it is to the Stilwell family past, present and future for historical purposes should anyone express an interest in learning more.

Ideally I would like to expand the site as time goes on with input from relatives, both images and historical facts. The idea being the site is a reference point for any future Stilwell relative as a starting point if they wish to do their own research.

The website itself, as it is family orientated, will have very little interest to others so I have not indexed it to any great extent on "search engines" so I would ask that if you find this site of interest pass the link on. Especially to our American cousins.

So please, any further information whether small or large, family photographs are always appreciated and will help to expand and offer to other family members an insight into our history.

Should you find a broken link, or information different to that shown I would ask that you email me so I may be able to correct it.

Finally, to comply with the Data Protection Act, objections to any of the material on this site are to be made to me in writing and will be actioned accordingly.

Thank you "Mel"
